

Finance & Business Manager

Founded in 1987, the Association of Northern Kimberley and Arnhem Aboriginal Artists (ANKAAA) is a leading not-for-profit Aboriginal Corporation, and Australia's first peak advocacy and support organisation for Indigenous art. ANKAAA services Indigenous artists and 48 Aboriginal owned community Art Centres located across its one million square kilometer regions in Northern Australia. ANKAAA works on behalf of its members to promote, resource, educate and protect the work of Indigenous artists and Art Centres.

This senior role is responsible for bookkeeping and financial management; grant management and reporting; and general oversight of the organisation's HR, IT and business functions. Experience using MYOB is essential. The Finance & Operations Manager will play a key role in building the financial sustainability of ANKAAA and will provide guidance to Aboriginal Art Centres in financial management.

The role requires excellent interpersonal skills, a capacity to work effectively across cultures, and a genuine commitment to Indigenous self-determination. Strong management skills and an ability to work cooperatively within a small team environment are essential for ensuring effective operations, compliance and service delivery for this multifaceted corporation with diverse income streams.

A competitive employment package will be offered to the right candidates.
